Sample answers
Literature in English
9695/51-53

These three sample answers are for 9695 AS/AL Literature in English Paper 5. They are intended to give an idea of the range of response and the requirements at the top, middle and middle/bottom of the mark range. They are not necessarily ideal or model answers, but are chosen as being representative answers on model texts.

UCLES 2010 2

Example 1 gentle voice be talks to in when speaking to "you do look my son , in and could to the mistakes and actions of king Alanso We also see Prosperals compassion in praises Ariel "well done, my bird "bear with my weathers; my old brain see how topen is open Through Ariel we see that Prospero is short thought to have thee of it; but I fearld This is how Prospero manages him so much This is plaque them all, Even have estrage et all it ai astoms to asterog Ariel is presented as shakespeare as who follows orders

Example 1 Halso reminds us that Fanny is there out of charity and therefore has little control of her life as is expected to do whatever is required of her by anyone. In the phrase, "Fanny was up in a moment" we see that Fanny was bosed as a servant in the Bertram household as she is In the phrase, "Fanny was up in a movement, expeding some errord, for the habit of employing her in that way was not yet overcome we see that Farmy is used as a servant in the Bertram basehold and is used to it as she expects to be sent The seralusion of Faring from the conference, shows that Fanny's prescence and opinion is not counted worthing or worth bearing, therefore puting a class barrier by pacluding her. In Fanny's reaction in her being asted to participate in the play "Me! ared Fanny, sitting down again with a most frightened book" shows that Fanny is timed and shy as the news of her lacting frightens We see that fanny does not like attention and prefers to be left alone in the phrase, "said Fanny, shocked to find herself at that moment the only speaker in the room." However it could also go to show how Fanny never receives attention

Paying close attention to language and tone, consider Shakespeare's presentation of Prospero and Ariel in the following passage. (Act 4, Scene 1, 'Prospero: I had forgot that foul conspiracy...Prospero: ...Even to roaming.')

The first essay on The Tempest is in Band 4, work that is 'solid'. The candidate does address the task consistently, the presentation of Prospero and Ariel, maintaining focus throughout what is quite a short essay. There is some knowledge of the text applied to the task and there is a clear understanding of how the writer's choices shape meaning - for example in considering the language of Prospero as 'hard and strong'. However this is not developed into analysis nor does the essay move beyond the candidate's generalised opinions. The focus though is on the 'portrayal' and there is a partial awareness of the dramatic methods: Ariel's reaction influences the way the audience sees Prospero for example. The reference to King Alonso hints at a wider knowledge of the text, but crucially here the candidate does not give a context for the passage nor is there any placing of the passage in terms of characterisation and plot. This limits the development of the essay to a series of thoughts and opinions which are partly repetitive and though these are clearly expressed if simple, there is little sense of an argument or a view unfolding here and the essay remains assertive in tone. Opinions are offered on for example different views of Prospero but these are not rooted in the language or dialogue sufficiently to be evidence of discrimination. The literary features noticed such as Ariel's 'smooth, poetic lines' are not analysed and the effects are merely asserted.

Paying close attention to language and dialogue, write a critical appreciation of the following passage, showing what it contributes to your understanding of Fanny's role and characterisation.

(Chapter 15: "Fanny," cried Tom Bertram"...considering who and what she is.")

The Austen essay, also on the passage, is somewhat weaker, mainly because there are fewer points relevantly made, though once again the essay is focused on the task. There is less evidence of the wider knowledge of the text and the simple ideas on Fanny's position in the Bertram household are neither developed nor fully supported. Again the absence of any contextualisation or placing of the passage hinders the development and the subtlety of Austen's dialogue and language is not considered. For example, Aunt Norris's comment is seen only in the way it shows Fanny's position and there is no comment on what it reveals about Mrs Norris and Fanny's role in the novel as the method through which Austen reveals the hypocrisy and wickedness perhaps of Mrs Norris. This essay therefore remains in Band 5 as a basic attempt, relevant and showing limited knowledge, but not having any depth to the argument nor able to offer analysis of the literary features noticed by the candidate which are in the first place basic points.

Section A

Ib. Throughout the carse of this extract statespecies clearly patrays the relationship between Hamlet and his mother, Gertrude through the play. This is the first time in the play that they are seen "alone" as Hamlet confronts his mother. "Mother you have my father much offended!", by this Shakespeare suggests how he feels she has "ofended!" not only him self but also his father Ghost Hamlet due to her "hasty marriage". The tene, actions and language used by Shakespeare in this extract clearly dipicts the distant, tense and cold relationship that Homlet and his mother maintain.

Shakespeare patroxs Hamlet as a very dirrect character in this extract. Throughout the chale play we see how Hamlet has "method in madness" this patroxs his intelligent use of pans through the play. In this case when taking to his mather he changes the focus of the conversation from him towards his mother. Certrude creates distance by the language as she is talking famaly "thoo" and Hamlet is informal "you". Shakespeare suggest by this how even though tamlet feels betryed by Question Example 2 in this his mother, he is still being direct to her. On the other hand Gertrudes formality adds tension and distance in their relationship. Hamlets actions in this scene also partray his lack of trust in his matter as he "hills Polonius through the arras" thinking it cas claudius. This action and Certrude being present in it later on in the play suspents how bestrude cishes to picted hor son. Shakespeare makes the Shakespeare suggests how throughout this Gertrudes and Hemlets relationship is "suggested by Shakespeare to be in a "balance" in this extract. Therefore it is a constant conversation at the begining attacting each other with their feelings. Hamlets "idel tengue" suggests how he tells his mother his direct feelings and is honest to her in chat he feels of her rushed and 'incestous' marrige. Homlet says Gertruds "tesque has a "wicked tensue" This clearly dipicts how he feels betrayed and hut by his mother as she has an 'evil' tengué, fer tatting Claudius as her husband. These 'insults' to card each other show the distance created and the tension between both characters as they both feel 'ofended' by each other in differnt Ucys.

Epistica. As Polonius is spying on the conversation Hamlet and the Queen are having this suggests how Polonius does not trust anyone and he thinks the only way to find out the real truth is by spying. Gertrude allows Polonius to stay behind the "arras" this dipicts how she scared of her son as he is now 'mad'. "Have you forgoten me? not only is she scored of her son as he is mad but she is also scored of him forgeting her. This shows how she does truly core about her son and vishes to know if he still cores about her. Dispite the distance created this partrays how she still wishes to have her son by her side, eventhous she is scared of him and the actions that he might make. Gertrude does not understand her sons attitude "In noise so rache against me" this suggests how she does not anderstand her sons actions of killing Poloniuse " what with those murder me?" Shakespeare clearly patroys the lact of trust she has in her son as she is scared he will kill her, due to his 'madness" Throughout the play many critics susgest the odipal complex in the relationship between Hemlet and Certrude. Ernest

Example 2	write in this margin
Jones suggests how he loves two comon traped between the lave he feels for his mether and at the same time the and violantness is also a sign of disire cishes to be the one in bed with his netter.
In conclusion through this extract Shorkespeare	ļ is tense between Hemlet and his netter, the tenssion risses as Gertrude does not 1 know uny hamlet has done "this bloodly deed" suggesting the distance between the two characters. The speak to each other in different tenses suggesting how they feel different connection between each other.
	Jones suggests how he loves two coman opbelia and certrucke yet dislikes them at the same time. "Eame, came and sit you down" this suggests how thanket is traped between the love he feels for his mether and of the same time the hadered'. Critics suggest how this fastred and violantness is also a sign of disire towards his matter as he is frustrated and jealous of Claudius as he secretly cishes to be the one in bed with his netter. In conclusion through this extract shorkespeare patroys how the tene and atmosphere is tense between Hemlet and his

5 d.	Discuss Dickens presentation of schools and ideas about education in Hord Times.
	In Hard Times' the role of school and the education the children recive plays a big rde. Dickens partrays how in the nineteenth century industralisation everything was being threatend to turn into 'machines' even the people, therefre Dictions saterises the system unich was based on "facts and only facts" by Gradginal exposing the atcome of this education and its failure. On the other hand Dickens shows how the excess of fancy is to much thus the perfect education would be the balance between 'fancy' and 'facts'.
	Corada and a Maria Gradgrind is the character responsible for the education system based on facts in Cotretown.
	"this is the principle on which I bring up my can children" this partrays how not only Louisa and Tem are victims of this opiessive education but all the children involved in the system as cell. The schools in 1	Hard Times are patroyed as one more fectory in Corretoun that produces "little vessels arranged in order". The 'production' 1	of these children emphasise how this Example 2 No. in this educational system they follow leads them to being 'clowns' of eachother. They all follow the same process through their educational system and they import the same amounds of facts into their brains. Cradginds ideal education is the one that bring both of his children to a downfall at the end of the navel. The possession The ideal education in Corretorn for the high society is based on facts. By this Dickens suggests how the children com not have a childhood as the facts make them think directly like adults. The perfect example of ideal man raised in this education is "Bitzer who only thinks facts yet he does say "I wonder" therefore bringing into dought the Gradshind system and its effect as they are prohibited to "wonder". The education in Hard Times speeds up the aging ageins process there fere makes the children tierd since a young age; "I have been tired for a long time now". The overload of foots in this educational system begings characters like Caisa and Tam to their docufall. Cocisa cishes to cender yet she is both prohibited, the only thing she can see slightly wondering is when she lacks into the "fire". This fire is a constrast to the cold hard feets she

UCLES 2010

Question

example 2

15

recives in her education. She lishes she cals taught how to wonder and feel emotions yet due to the education this is something impossible for her and even though she truly lishes she true how she never can. "I have not read any amusing sight or sead any amosing books" this emphasises once more the last of emotions and imagination that Gradginds education bings to his children. The idel education for Gradgrind is based on Facts and only fects" therefore he does not understand at the end of the nove) how his perfect educational system bing the docnfall of his children, On the other hand Dickens presents the overload of just fancy in the circus. Through the character of Sissy Dickens clearly patroys the balance between two completly different ideas of education. One based on cold facts and the other on fancy. Due to Gradgind foots Sissy feels "stepid" when joining the Gradsind family as she can not import 'all the facts as "it is too late". Gradsrind is "discpointed" in this Dictions sussests how his idea of facts does not cart on Sissy Therefore she is not like the rest write Question Example 2 margin of the little ressels. Dickens throughout Hard Times trys to make the reader finel the perfect balance between two different educational systems, that contradict each other. Dichens portrays the schools as if they were one mere Fectory in Corretorn, dull; cold and full of the same 'products'. Dictens policys shows the perfect outcome of both educational systems through the character of Sissy. Due to famouful Sissy and factual Gradsind the young & Gradginals are raised and educated in the perfect atmosphere as they have a balance between them both. Dickens does show there reader how Mrs Gradsfind nows that I semething your Feather has missed or fergatten ... I don't know what it is" this suggests how she does know something was was wrong with her husbands educational system but lacks the energy and imagination to know what it is. In conclusion Dickens presents the educational system in Corretoem as a disaster as no cheen character except for Sissy has the balance between facts and fancy.

Subject . Example 2 HAMLET Long tene actions TOXX Inho Long thoughout outract fermal got bestruckes side yet not formal hamlet. / Distance created thoushout the extract applitude thinks her son is eften Begins Polonius entrest andhy of any one Certifiche Follows his idex so he can see believes it is only any to find act the droth. Torn off focus of language. hamled language · "Idle tensue" " wickeed terrole · Hemlet -offitode - not tost feels beliged tells nother his feelings after hilling Pedanics. · Gertrohe - Attitude distent der extract/turns gertrude arand, dadius /cre see both Hemilat and First time Cestedo Cemplato, anlore netles les nots fermed to nim come since begins play cesays some one inbedagen Odiples amples - Ernest Jeng feels love for both comon opletia and Geltude yet dislikes them both out the some time. Uislas has would of been Otawiis

Candidate Name

Centre Number

Candidate Number

Example 2 Question 19th century margin notusing tis exich AMED TIMES Picters partrys how even schools become peogne - Graph grind education machins satires "feets and only feets are cented in this is the principle on which I raise my oan children" -system based on facts they do not reen lika school yet like one omer? Redery in Hardtings that creaties "little resels friensed in order" -Mr Charlemohid - feel like 9 jourist joil11 - perfect octane bitzer "pole white"
School feets brings their dann fem -- Sissy - farey does not feel ringe she fits in pla'ce -the circus goes to fer sissy balance between beth. - sissy end of the nach 14the CC raised by Bestern Grand gring Parcy Ren recive perfect barance. ascrething your ares/ve SCHOOL fretrys

Paying close attention to the language, tone and action, write a critical appreciation of the following passage, showing what it contributes to your understanding of the relationship between Hamlet and his mother.

(Act 3, Scene 4, 'Polonius: A will come straight...Queen: ...thunders in the index?')

The first essay is also a passage-based answer, this time on Hamlet and Gertrude's relationship. Here there is a solid knowledge of the context 'first time they are seen 'alone' – with the candidate aware tacitly of the irony of that. This is characterised by the candidate as 'distant, tense and cold' because of the 'hasty marriage'. But there is no more detailed context offered, so that the Mousetrap is ignored and the refused chance to murder the praying Claudius. There is some sense of exploring the language – the references to 'you' and 'thou' and the effect of the repetitions by Hamlet – but these do not develop into analysis of the effects. The candidate does offer other opinions on the relationship – what Gertrude is 'scared of' for example but these are not structured into an argument. The oedipal interpretation is mentioned but not linked to this passage very effectively and though there is a sense of the wider text at times there is no clear explanation of why this passage is significant in terms of either the relationship or the characterisation or the development of the plot. Overall this is a strong Band 4 essay – quite detailed and aware of some of the literary features, but not able to develop a structured argument or showing much engagement with the subtlety of the language here or even with the dramatic nature of the events unfolding.

Discuss Dickens's presentation of schools and ideas about education in Hard Times.

The Dickens essay is an option (a) essay and presents a competently organised response to the task. Relevant knowledge has been selected and shaped to the task with a sound overview offered in the opening paragraph on which the candidate builds with close reference to the text, focusing on Gradgrind himself with an apposite quotation and a neat link to the 'factories of Coketown'. To develop the views offered the candidate discusses Bitzer in contrast to Louisa and sees the effect of the use of the 'fire' and the concept of 'wonder', thus showing sound understanding of Dickens's methods and how meaning is created for the reader. The second part of the essay in focusing on 'fancy' and Sleary's circus is a less obvious choice of material for this task but is successfully adapted to the task by concentrating on Sissy and her inability to adapt to the Gradgrind system. The concluding paragraph, in touching on the role of Mrs Gradgrind, shows a sound knowledge of the whole text and effectively if somewhat repetitively sums up the essay, emphasising its relevance to the task set by the question. Overall this is a Band 3 essay, with intelligent if straightforward ideas, brought together in a simple but relevant argument, which is coherently expressed and offers at times personal relevant opinions.

Que

Leave blank

1
(A	In play of Hamlet it is extremely difficult to 1	de la supra de la la la constante de la consta determine what is isolice is. The question of 1	he relapsie moraling of both chanduis and nameles is
+	are of the deepest problems of the play, and the question
-	of unerner Hamlet is justified in averging his farmer by
+	telling Chandries is one which has been unch debated
+	among the orthos, and one which has lest no definite arowe
+	shakespeak humself dissapproved of venerge, and much
+	of Harrier many be stronger Shakes peare's attempt to make
-	we andrerce feel ashanred of warring any man porticular
+	Clauding, to be wiled. Thereinstattle Winter to son,
+	Merefore, mat all me characters are deals are justice
-	as a result of he verreige plot is purhaps or little misguided
+	hosmerer it is containly concernable man some of the +	characters recreix justice as the end, particularly know
-	who have belonged on an as Rogercrante and Guldernstern.
+	and those was have nothingly adused other, such as literin
H	The concept of reverge in an expression concept i
-	are of chineme complexity, and are unich is
-	bremerdonsly distribut to understand, leavinge lies &
-	in cruess of justice, is the margin bennear or he law
+	and communality, loverge requires an act of Villence
+	to be som a purishment and a uberation and 1	he dealer of Kamber seems to be particularly choqueur of this aurhiguity: he dies a reverger and a murderer, air guinilarly a soldier and the Differ Price. Insvetidor, the very congress The ennept mat here can be an acr of unerce union is clearing and acceptable, and one union abnower and unlawful is an expressely territ- ying one; as soul Bellow said is his essay to as capital purchasers: '10 nobody's trooped hards are clear enough to purou ha suitch. " Meetore, he very concept that reverge can deal out justice is quashonable are and one which is providedly germent to the play of Kounter. It is perhaps, appropriate to begin with me character or warmer much of the justice of the play is airied: Claudiis. Claudius is numyhout described as an incentions nurrelever, one salestan whom is a 'carter of evil' of prisoning the veris the community. At first glance, thereber, it seems right that clanding supply to killed by hamlet, in purshine to his murder one way is ferhaps easiest to Justify & Claudius arrider is by examining the Butical story of Abraham and his son Isaac. In believing that God ismuched huis to do so, Abrolham is willing to kill his own son is the name of the heaverly voice of God we accept me those similarly as a appearance, nameles may meretare, be justified is killing his uncle, and in such a way his reverge deals out justice. However, the question of whether Abraham is a nurdered of or as obedient son of God sill remains, The question of whether God can justin as act of maine is me which

Question number

> Leave blank

dishurbing. Moreover, it is is heaverly appearance. Afrè all, progamy hurseif Can lovible !! Homble! Homble! directions and gran a way he killing through religion, a quest an Kamer what God exactly desires, eusis. ga In Nietzschear Clandres is no disruptly he social order of Derman is a surula made to see me every of his nous puried, in part acreeved: "In anar a last har speech don give my consuite. " powerer mis is negated by his death. In such a way it is word to detressive how he reverge the deals only rounged to justice in a thousand Clauders or whom it is chiefly arried The reverge plot, altrough armed at Claudins, also results is no dearn of sacram he majority me mair anaracticis. Polonius' Learn demonstrates hamler carry out as uniquitaine action of stabling in belied he array! yet is this, again justice Promin many is arguably a particularly disvepulable character is the plany of Manulet. no issumers Reynardo to spy as their lactures, telling him to sail lacenes in harris by selling ones of lawter' 'fencing,' 'squalbling, 'to and 'ganblig.' Nor only does he mis break his son our his danguler how. the poules loghopings the "looses Ophelia not is order to understand the source of Hamler's madress, and he attacks her for what he yesteries as her proviscuity, tellighe how the has been most free and 'Sunternes' and egolisheally decrares mak if the commies with such 'terders' (he'll' suder' him a 'tool.' Frially, he down deministrates husself a hypocrit, nor forthing he advice he gries who being particularly the being the polarius heretare demonstrates a man was should justice, yet, once muse is killing appropriate The assure is the 20th century is of course no, yell someone when has ached like a 'fylomoiner'

Question number

> Leave blank

to be regrunarded in some manner or another will Poscerciante betrayed thamler, acred rike yelr jestmetry new seem to be justice, nor appropriate Vannus pression everge perhaps fers nifying her speech Ophel embracing dress har Harristel fergins

Me suicide made namele mesonses. In such way, it does not seem the venege of live inless we Leads justice to Ophelia, he prally gaining self-expression he only character who he plor deals Institle to is hamilton. no complex posterior neturalely with The perce dispire behind imposioned day is hims lear but it is permanes for hamlet. one question 1 Whene unid to suffer the stories and outragens from , or to take arms woulder and of opposing and their No play. Dansvarma awards he is to take his one surelarly awaits him he is V carnol contine to line concercous grown well. If here is a nobleness in made is Schopenhauer's essay fre, he only way hander car holy birder, and needy dehavered being killed by someone rety weekans I would carnor deliver justice. Although he character is the plan deserve win, and her some understood; such as the characters Ou Roserciano Guidenster Promis à Gernde

Qu____ number

> Leave blank

is is not the Question number

Leave blank

1
)	Much q me Nui's Prést's take afters a commercany on the follies of marking Both characters of anniveleer and Pertelore partition satisfie he preternous and indulged nature of he usily, paracularly a comparison to the widow. to The Agreer deal of the Nuis Trest's tale seems to be Chancer's Consumertany as how the is was not rungly me aristocracy was could possess 'greath' qualities, in fact, as a result of weather partoon since is was much harde for he posed askilly to act morally, and i a norte marne.
	Particularly is the protogne, the Chancer seems to be justify, and similarly questioning the purpose of short telling. The Most's statement of tell is swith thing a way our herres glade's as a result of the ninks rate which was enderly universely bookspoons boring is perhaps chances commenting in how humans do not desire to hear shories was with severce, exemples and moral meaning. Chauce may be commercing as sear man's desire to never hear the smooth both sod hue, never hear the genine but rather tales of good 'Einne: I' many ways,

Merefore, The Nur's Priest hranges to pr continue this whom 64 extremely himsons, tre Musis Chans. "serverce" are way, the glass tale with the concept 0 prich mahappy Meny can be of chamberdee of descopers rans have his unhappy end FUME many W. i barlan as carefully, is contain breachery, fortheredal no country of words Brok as 'flesse' similarly he continuous regulation 'ye' and 'you' and to recognise Mis successfully beguiled unishaves how me Nui's prest's man's actionsoledge the truth but te uterly builed flattery pride anner herre me Nug's Prest's Jul convard he takes a laxable dreams are nothing but 'varitees,' Alle

Question number

> Leave blank

	Champedeer ofers as unnievely academic and
L	utellectual response, wing cicero, Macrobers
L	and The Sible, his all seems to stern from his derive how to take a 'laxabit.' The win's Prior herefore deministrates how protestat ofthe man can be so proud mar have in can ever drive huis to grave his our adrie. As well as Fixe's flatting has , therefore, it is also finde how causes channecleur to ignore his own dream and now take his fare in his our hands.
	Furnisher, is is morel chance's references to such authorities as Ciciro, Macrobeus, sold Caro and he Bible mak assists in placing both Chambecles!
	and Pertebore's fairings is a known human context; me 'anchombee's ' may no make me 'serbence' of he stony have relevant to humans, and meretare more reflective upon human name.
	The Nur's Priest's Tare also derronstrates how was more of mobile birm and wearten
L	do not macre necessarily pissess 'gertil' qualities.
	Although Pertebbre is described as curreys, discreed and desonaire's stop her speech seems no idicare quite le opposite, regunardin channeleer as a 'conard' declaring mar The carnor we such a mar. Similarly, born chamtedan and ferrelow's arevirantgerce and excessiveness are also very much apparent horanghant The Nur's Prask's Take, particularly as they 'ferined' each other twenty times before dawn. All this is made much wrong hild and abhorrent is comparison 'lorve widne! was is 'name' and 'sleave,' and unose 'tempre d'étre was at The under begresents a few mundle momen who finds it which easier to being life of a result of her hundle background Chancer, herefore shows a subtle cirificoin the aristerracy through the presentation Chambracleer and Pertelone The widow, whose life seems to be much more balanced and is doed "gerlis" mas the of the conteres and the her. It is also perhaps a subtle ennain of the movers, was herely a Nur and yet seemingly hids it ourrently difficult & lead a numble aid basanced agestyle. Indeed wealth is strong to be curre i me bale, carreilarly with the plignin is one of chamtecleer's 'exercylum's' unos gold caused his mordere Chancer also semonstates how frequently was has the appreturing to take control of our fan aid yet reproy to Chambelleer gris to many examples of read too supported house by airebouter's 'of more was fortishly ignored he foods importance of dreams her the story of he has prigries the face is one is always is the hand of mother number

Leave blank

and is the case of Kerekus, he is too young to understand he importance of ferty and Creans to grow. Chambedeer is on the only marache was how the apportunity to take within of his our fane and yer chroses not to as a result of his pride and flattery. A Mingh his and be seen as a comment on topses quedestiration and how circumstances are as a result of God's will, it is perhaps more tikely man was in is a comment upon he so passiving of human nature, was when faced with he ophors of taking action or remaining passive prequently choose he labour gher for h foolish and motie.
me portrayal of he fox also Winstrates me forishness 9 pride. Me fox loans to 'hard his year' and understand what he has got, rance mar always desiring were.
mis is a clear consumert on the way in mich humans so frequently are never sanshed , as a result of which he pregner by was what we have already got.
The devaled nock-hervic quality of he Nuis Prost Tale allows neal sensis concers and messages of la de is ludiciones circumstances discussing his formyard. Mass poses OR deprece will. Can the Nur's Prest's take Way serios Mus flattury and mide allingh nor necessarily ore ourer, of Mis Gorne tale, and characters whom of may draw away An he Mennes ide in particular and not characterise es in his plant to much to ieice of his names and aside honer, conners messages and concern characters before it gugling deliked dy Lervic, and elevited quality of to corriedy of the

'In the end the revenge plot deals out justice to all the characters.' How far does your reading of the script support this view?

This is a very good script throughout. The first essay, option (a) on Hamlet, begins with a consideration of the morality of revenge, showing an understanding of different views and how these lead to the essential problem of the play and ultimately its enduring tragic qualities. Linking justice to the idea of revenge enables the candidate to explore the text in detail, moving from the general point and the moral ambiguity highlighted by the quote from Saul Bellow to a detailed examination of Claudius, which cleverly is linked to the story of Abraham and Moses, via the ghost of old Hamlet. The analysis here is sustained and shows a sensitive grasp of how meaning and ambiguity is created by the writer. The development of an alternative 'Nietzschean' view of the murder of Claudius enables the candidate to show a perceptive and balanced grasp of the text - Claudius as the 'good king' - and to link back to the task: what is justice. There is further perceptive analysis of Polonius's role in the play but even here the candidate does not opt for the simple notion of a just death but questions the morality in terms of the 20th century audience – a persuasive statement of differing opinions. There is a sensitive grasp of the role and characterisation of Ophelia, showing personal engagement, which is fully supported and in a way original - Ophelia as a 'paler shadow of Hamlet'. This leads neatly to the perceptive consideration of Hamlet himself which in turn leads to the concluding paragraphs where the candidate summarises the evidence presented and offers a final view on the task set. Overall this is an accomplished and very detailed essay, fully meeting the requirements of Band 1 in all respects.

In what ways and how successfully does Chaucer use the beast fable to present human nature in The Nun's Priest's Prologue and Tale?

The Chaucer essay, also option (a), is equally successful. The opening of the essay deconstructs the task through the exploration of 'story telling' and leads the candidate into a detailed and well supported argument on the role and characterisation of Chauntecleer, which fully and directly addresses the task set. Chaucer's methods and concerns are well identified here – flattery, nobility and pride, for example and the candidate successfully shows how these human concerns are not only presented through the beast fable but also explored and developed. As well as dealing with such weighty issues the candidate also sees the humour in the mock heroic style and the effect of the 'ludicrous circumstances' in creating the humorous tale, without undervaluing Chaucer's seriousness in exposing human folly. Overall this is a very good essay, clearly within Band 1, offering balanced and well supported views, weighing different opinions and finding detailed relevant material to support the perceptive and persuasive arguments.